
Lenovo has developed a student BYOD site specifically for NSW DEC students so that students are equipped with appropriate BYOD devices, ready for Term One in 2014.

Attached is a letter containing the key considerations for parents/carers to take into account when selecting devices that are suitable for use within a school environment. Over the coming weeks the site will be further developed as new products come to market.

Lenovo’s aim is to offer a broad range of devices, all of which are designed to ensure student digital inclusion specifically within the NSW DEC environment - this means all devices:

- are suitably equipped to enable Wi Fi connectivity within NSW schools
- are covered by extensive warranty and
- are of a commercial build quality to ensure longevity, minimal student downtime and minimal school administration.
